

ELITE ADVISORY BOARD

The TritonWear Elite Advisory Board (EAB), is an exclusive group of leaders in swimming that will assist in driving the evolution of the sport by helping it become truly data-driven.

TODD DESORBO

Head Coach of Virginia Cavaliers, University of Virginia

"Over the past year, I've utilized data more than ever to better support our athletes and believe data can be used more frequently to enhance training and performance."

TOM RUSHTON

Head Coach of Energy Standard,
International Swimming League

"I like to think that I can make things understandable and palatable for swimmers and other coaches. Especially in the realm of coach development, I think sometimes coaches don't quite understand how to apply the science and data."

MEGAN OESTING

Head Coach at Bend Swim Club and ASCA Board of Directors Member

"Being able to set the benchmarks for our athletes that go so much deeper than just their times allows us to educate and influence the components that make the biggest impact on performance."

MEL STEWART

CEO and Co-Founder of Swimswam

"Recently, at SwimSwam, data has become the rage. Coaches, swimmers, and fans want it more and more. Increasingly swim data has become the center-piece to news coverage, and we do rely on TritonWear's expertise."

BRADEN KEITH

Editor-in-Chief and Co-Founder of SwimSwam

"Data is the future, in swimming and everywhere. TritonWear is on the cutting edge of that, and I think together we can push the sport to a new level."

"We are thrilled to unite some of the biggest names in swimming around our common goal of evolving our sport through the power of data. The calibre of this group just goes to show how important and timely this is, and we can't wait to see how we can move the needle together."

- Tristan Lehari, Founder and CEO, TritonWear